

```

OpenSSH SSH client
-bash-5.1$ cat Ryan-Skelly
echo "This is Ryan J. Skelly from cs527!"
-bash-5.1$ ls -l Ryan-Skelly
-rw----- 1 rjs1070 csit 42 Feb  7 15:06 Ryan-Skelly
-bash-5.1$ chmod 500 Ryan-Skelly
-bash-5.1$ ./Ryan-Skelly
This is Ryan J. Skelly from cs527!
-bash-5.1$

Right after writing to the file with vim, it only had read and write permissions. After changing the files access list to read and execute the file printed the message. Linux access format has 5 as read and execute, and exclusively read and write is 6. If I wanted both I'd do 7. I set it to 500 because after writing to the file, I won't need to do it again.
